COMMITMENTS

Our management system is the means that allows us to meet the following commitments.

CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

We are convinced that continuous improvement allows us to be more effective and efficient in the management of our services and facilities, including improvements to the way in which we carry out our activities in an environmentally friendly manner.

To make continuous improvement a reality, we undertake to:

- Identify and manage internal and external issues that affect, or could affect our services and facilities, as well as our environmental behaviour and results.
- Effectively manage relationships with our suppliers and employees, to ensure compliance and to improve their performance.
- Identify the needs and expectations of our main stakeholders, and manage their inclusion as the primary requirement to ensuring their compliance or improvement.
- Identify and analyse risks and opportunities.
- Analyse the knowledge available to the organisation, to identify areas for improvement.
- Actively identify incidents and deviations, to learn about the mistakes that we make and to allow us to take actions to minimise them.

All of these aspects are studied at an organisational and process level, to identify areas where action plans can be put in place, and targets set to allow us to achieve the intended improvements.

COMMITMENTS

Our management system is the means that allows us to meet the following commitments.

MEETING REQUIREMENTS

We are fully convinced that identifying and meeting the requirements that apply to our activities and facilities is a fundamental part of guaranteeing the best possible service and environmental friendliness.

To achieve this, we undertake to:

- Identify the legal requirements that apply to our activities and facilities.
- Identify our customers' requirements.
- Identify other voluntary requirements and decide whether we wish to follow them.
- Identify the requirements of our stakeholders and decide whether we want to manage them as our own requirements.

Once we have identified all of the requirements, we undertake to evaluate the extent to which they are met, and to take any necessary actions if we are not meeting them.

COMMITMENTS

Our management system is the means that allows us to meet the following commitments.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

We are fully convinced that environmental protection and pollution protection are fundamental parts of our corporate strategy.

Therefore, we undertake to

- Identify all activities that cause, or could cause a significant impact on the environment; if the impact is negative, we seek to minimise it and, if positive, we seek to boost the impact.
- Analyse whether service provision processes can be improved from an environmental performance point of view, and apply these improvements.
- Analyse whether the infrastructure used for providing the services could be improved in terms of energy efficiency and minimising negative environmental impacts.
- Analyse whether the impact on the environment can be reduced by applying accessible and up to date techniques and technologies, and apply them if economically viable.
- Make responsible, effective and efficient use of natural resources, and reduce their consumption as far as possible.
- Raise awareness among the organisation's personnel of the importance of applying best practices to guarantee that we carry out our activities in an environmentally friendly manner.
